

CENTRAL HOSPITAL MAKES FINE RECORD

Report of Dr. Drewry to Board of Directors Makes Good Showing for Year.

NO INSANE IN THE JAILS

All Applicants Are Now Promptly Received—Changes in Staff of Officers.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
PETERSBURG, Va., October 10.—State Commissioner of Hospitals J. M. Bauman, of Woodstock, and Chairman Robert Gilliam, of Petersburg; J. G. Bohanan, of Surry, and Julius Straus, of Richmond, attended the annual meeting of the board of directors of the Central State Hospital at that institution to-day, when contracts for supplies for the ensuing quarter were awarded to Petersburg, Richmond and Norfolk merchants, and a most interesting report for the fiscal year ending September 30th, was received from the Superintendent, Dr. W. F. Drewry, of this city.

The resignation of Dr. E. P. Bledsoe, of Lexington, as second assistant physician and pathologist, was accepted, and Dr. R. C. Hume and T. F. Jarrett, the third and fourth assistant physicians, were promoted to second and third, leaving the office of fourth assistant unfilled. The board decided to appoint a pathologist and a medical officer, thus providing an additional assistant and enlarging the scope of work of the hospital staff.

In Good Condition.

Dr. Drewry's report showed the institution to be in a most prosperous and efficient condition, both as to results achieved in treatment of patients and as to management, stating the significant fact that there are no insane in any county jail or almshouse, and no applications for admission to the hospital on file. A total of 1,592 patients were in the hospital during the year, 381 applications for admission were received, 268 patients were admitted, 165 patients were discharged, the percentage of recoveries to number of admissions being 39.37 for males and 35.81 for females; average, 37.41.

Total receipts for the year amounted to $125,116.37; expenses, $124,639.14, leaving a balance of $777.18 and no unpaid bills. The great value of occupation and recreation as restoratives in the treatment of patients and the continued success of the outdoor tent and pavilion treatment for tuberculosis patients are emphasized among the many successful results achieved.

Visit of Veterans.

A battlefield commission, representing six regiments of Pennsylvania veterans of Harcourt's Division of the Ninth Army Corps, and having in charge the selection of a memorial to the division, reached Petersburg this morning, and are quartered at the Stratford Hotel. Fifteen thousand dollars was appropriated by the Pennsylvania Legislature last year for the erection of such a memorial to Harcourt's Division on the battlefields around Petersburg, where the division played a prominent part and lost many men. The six members of the commission, representing the six regiments of the division, are George W. Aughenbaugh, of York, Pa., representing the Two Hundredth Regiment; Henry Elway, of Abcon, representing the Two Hundred and Fifth Regiment; W. S. Seabold, of Annerville, Pa., representing the Two Hundred and Eighth Regiment; J. H. Frederick, of Lockhaven, Pa., representing the Two Hundred and Seventy-second Regiment; Milton A. Embick, of Bolling Springs, Pa., representing the Two Hundred and Ninety-second Regiment; and E. J. Bragg, of New York, Pa., representing the Two Hundred and Eleventh Regiment. Messrs. Bragg, Embick and Elway are, respectively, president, secretary and treasurer of the commission, which is accompanied by F. W. Wall, sculptor, Mayor A. C. Hildekooper, of Meadville, Pa., and Mr. Edward W. Jones, of Boston, Mass. The Pennsylvania Legislature has made provision for the transportation of the veterans of Harcourt's Division to the site of the monument, which will probably be made a great occasion by all the Confederate and Union veterans in Petersburg at the time.

Charged With Bigamy.

William E. Green, a painter, who has been in jail for three months in default of a bond for good behavior, has arranged in Mayor Jones' court this morning on a warrant sworn out by his wife, charging bigamy, and alleging that at the time of his marriage to Laura E. Ennes, his present wife, on March 14, 1899, he had another living wife, who is named as Verna Wall. Green and his present wife have lived together continuously since their marriage, eighteen years ago, and have several children.

Death of Mrs. Bragg.

Mrs. Frances McDonald Bragg, widow of Mr. William L. Bragg, died yesterday at her home in Lunenburg county, in the ninety-eighth year of her age, after a lingering illness from paralysis. Mrs. Bragg was probably the oldest resident of the county. She is survived by the following children: Messrs. T. C. Bragg, W. L. Bragg, D. P. Bragg, E. W. Bragg and E. L. Bragg, of Lunenburg; Mrs. R. B. Bragg, of this city; and J. A. Bragg, of Suffolk, Va. The funeral took place this afternoon from the residence, and

The interment was in the family burying-ground. Miss Susie F. Haskins died yesterday afternoon at the residence of her sister, Mrs. F. R. Fraser, on East Tabb Street.

Brief Petersburg Items.

Conductor Aldridge, of the Washington Street electric car line, was knocked from the footboard of his car last night by a piece of timber projecting from a pile of dirt and rocks on the street, and was painfully hurt, another man having to take his place. The accident occurred near the bridge just west of the Anderson School, where Washington Street is being repaved.

The statement in the Petersburg letter in The Times-Dispatch this morning that Mr. E. L. Quarles, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, had gone to Richmond for a week's visit was an error as to the length of time of his stay. Mr. Quarles has returned to Petersburg, and was at his office to-day.

KNIGHTS TEMPLARS PARADE.

Several Hundred in Line—Trip Around the Harbor.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
NORFOLK, Va., October 10.—Over four hundred Knights Templars, attired in full regalia, to-day paraded the streets of Norfolk incident to the convening of the eighty-fifth annual convocation of the Grand Commandery of Virginia.

Prior to the parade a brief session was held at the Masonic Temple, with Grand Commander T. G. Nottingham, of Norfolk, presiding. The real business of the convocation will not be taken up until to-morrow.

At the conclusion of the parade, which was headed by Colonel Harry Hodges, president of the Norfolk Command of Control, and past grand commander, as chief marshal, and accompanied by three bands, the Masons took steamer Berkeley, of the Old Dominion Line, and made a trip around Norfolk harbor and Hampton Roads.

SUSTAINS STANDING MASTER.

Judge Pritchard Overrules Motion of State to Examine Books.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
ALEXANDRIA, N. C., October 10.—In the United States Circuit Court to-day Judge Pritchard rendered his decision in the matter of the appeal of counsel for the State from a ruling by Standing Master Montgomery in the railway rate hearing.

The judge argued before Judge Pritchard related to the question of whether counsel for the State had the right to examine the books and accounts of the Southern Railway Company prior to June 30, 1905.

Postal Affairs.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
WASHINGTON, D. C., October 10.—Kirby L. Prince appointed regular; Samuel F. Spitzer, substitute, rural carrier, No. 1, at Midland, Va. Postmasters appointed: Virginia—Laurel Fork, Carroll county, Mary E. Scott, vice John P. Burnett, resigned. North Carolina—Franklin, Stokes county, Joseph Francis, vice S. A. Mair, resigned.

SCHOOLS BENEFIT BY THE DECISION

North Carolina Supreme Court
Renders Opinion as to Levying
Special Taxes.

PROHIBITIONISTS STIRRED UP

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

RALEIGH, N. C., October 10.—The Supreme Court delivered opinions to-day in fourteen cases and variously disposed of twelve others. The appeal of most general interest decided was in the case of Collier vs. Commissioners of Franklin county, testing the right of county commissioners the State over to levy special public school tax for maintaining schools four months in the year as all necessary expenses.

The opinion is by Associate Justice George H. Brown for the court, and reverses former rulings in the noted cases of Barksdale vs. Commissioners in 33 North Carolina Reports, and Board of Education vs. Commissioners of Bladen, in 111 North Carolina Reports. The Constitution of North Carolina forbids county commissioners levying taxes without special authority. Other than "necessary expenses" for running county affairs, and the Supreme Court in the past, through rulings in the noted Barksdale case, 33 North Carolina Reports, and Bladen case, in 111 North Carolina Reports, has held that taxes for schools were "necessary expenses."

Prohibitionists Getting Restless.

Advocates of prohibition are getting very restless over the situation as to the movement for holding an election here late in December of "prohibition" and "dispensary." The petition for such an election has been in the hands of a committee of the Board of Aldermen for some time, and a report being made on it, and there is growing conviction in the minds of the leaders for prohibition that the report is being purposely delayed in order to defeat the calling of an election this year at all. The committee, of which J. S. Sherrill is chairman, declares, however, that the committee is using all the dispatch possible, and that the delay now is really on account of the absence of Alderman Taylor, an important member of the committee, from the city.

The report of the committee is general that notwithstanding the fact that the dispensary is earning big revenues for the city and county and greatly reducing the general tax rate, an election will result in a sweeping victory for prohibition.

The report of the manager of the Raleigh dispensary for the quarter ending September 30th, shows sales aggregating $57,473.

TAIR RIVER ASSOCIATION.

This Body Holds Annual Session in Henderson.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
HENDERSON, N. C., October 10.—The Tair River Association convened Tuesday in its seventy-seventh annual session in this city. This is one of the largest of the fifty-five associations composing the State convention. There were present 96 churches, representing 3,000 delegates, representing 35,000 foreign total, $6,000. The addresses on State missions were delivered by Rev. Braxton Craig and Dr. W. C. Tree, of Raleigh, who is vice-president for North Carolina. Professor J. B. Carlyle, of Wake Forest College, spoke on Christian education. Rev. L. M. Kelsor, superintendent of the Southern Baptist Orphanage, made an address, presenting in effective manner the claims of that institution. A cash collection was taken up, amounting to $150.

The subject of church officials was discussed by Rev. Charles W. Blanchard, editor of the Biblical Recorder; Rev. S. F. Converse, field editor of the North Carolina Baptist; and Rev. Dr. John D. Huffman, delivered address.

Nothing Said About Strike.

NEW YORK, October 8.—No action bearing upon the telegraphers' strike was taken at the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Western Union Telegraph Company to-day. The old board of directors was re-elected with the exception of George W. Miller, who was succeeded by Samuel Sloan and Samuel Spencer, deceased.

BOOM FOR HUGHES AT THE EXPOSITION

New York's Governor Given
Great Ovation, and Name Proposed for President.

HAVE NOTABLE CELEBRATION

Large Crowd and More Enthusiasm Than Almost Any Previous Day's Exercises.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

NORFOLK, Va., October 10.—Governor Hughes, of New York, received an ovation at the Jamestown Exposition to-day more noisy, perhaps, than that received by President Roosevelt, Governor Folk, of Missouri, or by Governor Glenn, of North Carolina. And a delegation of his fellow-citizens here for the celebration of New York Day at the fair. Everything that the Empire State has undertaken at Jamestown has been well done, and the celebration of its day was the climax of its efforts. No State has had a more successful day. Ideal weather prevailed, and one of the biggest crowds of the exposition period was on the grounds. Many New Yorkers were among them.

An Ovation to Hughes.

The official exercises of the day commenced in the exposition Auditorium at 11 o'clock. Governor Hughes, who is making his headquarters at the New York Exposition Building while here, was escorted from that building to the Auditorium by a detachment of the Twelfth New York Infantry and the gallant Squadron A, of New York City. At the Auditorium a vast throng had assembled to greet him. He entered with his arm locked into that of Governor Swanson, of Virginia.

State Senator Thomas B. Dunn acted

INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER CO.

Their Magnificent Exhibit of Labor-Saving Machinery
a School for Agriculturists.

The extensive exhibit of the International Harvester Company at the State Fair this week is an educational institution in the truest sense, and the thousands of farmers who have visited their big tent and grounds have been studying the farm machinery in active operation have learned that successful farming can be carried on in Virginia and throughout the South in spite of the constant cry of scarcity of labor and the inferiority of the modern negro.

A large space is required to hold the Harvester Company's vast show, and this space presents and has presented since the opening of the fair, one of the busiest scenes on the grounds. The International Harvester Company has a number of gasoline engines of various sizes from two to twenty-horse power, engines which run all manner of machinery for the farm and the small factory. Also traction engines of from 10 to 16-horse power.

Other Labor-Savers.

The exhibition of other farm machinery is immense. There are threshers, corn shellers and shredders, grain binders, mowing machines, corn harvesters, hay tedders for drying out purposes, hay loaders with side loading, self and hand-dump rakes, corn shellers, feed grinders, hay mowers, all kinds and sizes known to the farming art, manure spreaders from thirty-five to seventy-five bushels capacity, and wonderful machines they are: cultivators, cycle graders, new chain saws, and many other articles in daily use on the well-regulated farms of the country. A corn mill, by which, with the use of a small gasoline engine, any farmer can be his own miller, has attracted a vast deal of attention.

Revelation in Wagons.

In another department of this splendid exhibit are to be seen all kinds and sizes of one and two-horse wagons and a magnificent steel-platform farm wagon, which is a revelation in wagons. With its wide floor it will hold more than can be put on two ordinary wagons, and with the broad, substantial, but light steel wheels, twice as large a load can be carried with ease, even where good roads do not always prevail; but the day of good roads is near at hand, and the steel-platform farm wagon is destined to become popular in Virginia.

A farmer's auto buggy in this department has attracted a great deal of attention. With all of the machinery shown above in active operation, it is propelled by gasoline engines of various sizes. The space of the International Harvester Company has been a busy place all the week, and every moment in every part of the grounds is being taken by farmers and those who are taking in the true solution of the labor problem.

All Their Own Make.

All of these goods are made by the International Harvester Company. This company carries a complete stock of all of these goods at the warehouse of the Richmond agency, No. 1009 East Cary Street, and not only so, but it has agencies at several points in Virginia and Eastern Carolina that are kept supplied with large stocks ready to supply the farmers right on the grounds. These agencies carry in stock all of the parts of the machinery they sell, so that in the case of breakdown or loss of any part the farmer who has the machine in use will have no difficulty in putting the same in working order quickly.

There are in Virginia and Eastern Carolina over 600 agents selling these goods from the Richmond agency, and no men on earth keep in closer touch with the people. Truly the labor problem is being solved, and the farmer has no excuse to cry about the scarcity of field hands and all the like of that. If he wants to make a big crop he has only to supply himself with the right kind of machinery and he and his boys can do the rest. It is due largely to the activity of the agents of the International Harvester Company that the agriculturists of Virginia and Carolina are finding this thing out, and to that extent this great company and its army of agents are doing good and lasting missionary work.

as chairman of the day, Hon. Harry St. George Tucker, president of the exposition, and Governor Swanson welcomed the visitors to the fair and State, and then President Jacob Gould Schurman, of Cornell University, was introduced. It was the recounting by the scholar of the achievements of Governor Hughes that brought forth the Governor's greatest ovation, the audience seeming to infer that the speaker intended his eulogy as a boon to the Governor for President. So vigorous was the applause when President Schurman concluded his address that the Governor was compelled to arise and bow his acknowledgments.

The Governor's Speech.

The speech of Governor Hughes followed the delivery of President Schurman's. It was several minutes before he could speak when introduced, and the applause kept up at intervals until he concluded, when he was cheered as the next President. Governor Hughes said in part:

He most surely attains the highest success and the greatest happiness who in the zealous exercise of his talents finds the path of service, and whose achievements are a benediction to mankind. But what is most needed, in a particular sense, in the interest of good administration of government and the welfare of the community is a stricter insistence upon fiduciary responsibility. This can be obtained in part by the enforcement of law and in part must be gained through public sentiment and the cultivation of higher standards of conduct. It is an extraordinary perversion to suppose that the owner of fifty-one per cent of the capital stock of a corporation is free to wreck his place as president or manager, the officer or director occupies a position of trust not for the majority, but for the entire body of stockholders. And while it may extend to the policy which the majority desire, it must be a policy consistent with good faith and fair dealing with all. Nothing is more reprehensible than the abuse of power on the part of those who act in a representative capacity.

The test of character may be found in the faithful discharge of trust where it may be abused in secret and with seeming impunity. Every man has his sphere of fiduciary obligation. It is not in the narrow sense in which the term is employed in courts of law, but in the broader sense recognized by every man of self-respect. It is his duty to his profession to maintain the dignity of independence, and is false to the trust conferred upon him when he is induced to practice as an officer of justice, if he permits himself to become the tool of unprincipled manipulators. The editor shamelessly ignores the facts or uses his columns to pervert the public judgment.

Of highest importance is the sentiment of honor and the sense of fiduciary obligation in connection with public service. The people will tolerate no cynicism here. Parties may disagree, but there can be no dispute with reference to the demand that public privileges shall be granted only to the public interest and that public officers shall regard only the public interest in the administration of government.

The cry "Every man for himself" is out of date. The demand of the future will be "Every man for the people." No one can be permitted to put private interests above the public advantage. And thus in recognizing the necessity of giving fair opportunity for individual advancement, and the rewards of industry, and the same time in insisting upon fidelity to trust, upon the rights of community and upon the sufficiency of the law representing the will of the people in endeavoring to call the most efficient to the service of the State, and in discharging the duties of public office with sole regard to public interests, shall we diffuse the blessings of prosperity, making it servant to the happiness of all.

Luncheon and Parade.

The Governor was entertained at luncheon after the Auditorium exercises, and at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, accompanied by Governor Swanson, General Fred D. Grant and others, including those from New York, on Lee Parade, a special feature of which was a tactical drill of the Twelfth United States Cavalry. Troopers wore at the time of the New York Day to-day in honor of the celebration of the day the New York commissioners to the exposition tendered Governor Hughes a reception at the New York State Building to-night.
